

2017 NATPA Travel Support Award for Young Scholars

2017 North America Taiwanese Professors' Association (NATPA) Annual Conference

THEME: 開展台灣政治與國際地位的新局
WHEN: August 4 – August 6, 2017
WHERE: Holiday Inn Express & Suites
6600 North Mannheim Road
Rosemont, IL 60018

The North America Taiwanese Professors Association (NATPA) Young Scholars Program is currently accepting applications for travel support to attend the 2017 NATPA Annual Conference. Travel support includes:

- Airfare (per person) or mileage reimbursement (per car) up to $500
- Room for 3 nights (8/4, 8/5, 8/6) shared by two
- Meals during conference (8/5 and 8/6)
- Conference registration fee is waived

To be eligible, applicants must be Taiwanese or Taiwanese American graduate students, recent graduates, or postdoctoral scholars. Award recipients are required to give a presentation in the Young Scholars session scheduled for the conference. Subject to the total support request, NATPA plans to award ten or more applications this year. Selection will be based on the applicants' qualifications, evidence of active community involvement, and the proposed topic for presentation. Priority will be given to presentations on applied research in science, technology, culture, education, social study, economics, or political science related to current issues in Taiwan or sustainable development of Taiwan.

To apply, please fill out the online application at <https://goo.gl/forms/QBpijXYK5sEXTcss2>, and email a copy of your CV or resume to Dr. CP Yeh, cpyeh28@gmail.com.

The application deadline is April 21, 2017. The result will be announced by May 8, 2017. For further inquiries and questions about the conference and the Young Scholars Program, please contact Dr. CP Yeh cpyeh28@gmail.com, Dr. Jeff Hou jhou@uw.edu, or Dr. Pen-Jen Lin pjlin06@gmail.com.

Conference program, keynote speeches, invited speakers, and the one-day Chicago city tour on August 7 will be announced soon. Please visit the NATPA web site (<http://natpa.org>) for the announcement.
